The Mohawk

Category : Radical

Popularity:

Info: The mohawk (also referred to as a mohican in British English) is a hairstyle in which, in the most common variety, both sides of the head are shaven, leaving a strip of noticeably longer hair in the center. The mohawk is also sometimes referred to as an iro in reference to the Iroquois, from whom the hairstyle is derived - though historically the hair was plucked out rather than shaved. Additionally, hairstyles bearing these names more closely resemble those worn by the Pawnee, rather than the Mohawk, Mohican/Mahican, Mohegan, or other phonetically similar tribes...

The Mop-top

Category : 60's mod

Popularity:

Wiki Info: The Beatle haircut, also known as the mop-top (or moptop) — because of its resemblance to a mop — or Arthur amongst fans, is a mid-length hairstyle named after and popularized by the Beatles. It is a straight cut — collar-length at the back and over the ears at the sides, with a straight fringe (bangs).

Messy but Dressy

Category : Casual

Popularity:

Wiki Info: Slightly disheveled hair with some lift and texture. Think of it as polished bedhead—it doesn't look like you just woke up, but there aren't visible comb lines in your hair, either. "For a while we were over-groomed, so it's refreshing to see this kind of effortless hair again," says Aviva, a celebrity stylist whose clients include Elijah Wood, Darren Criss, and Michael Fassbender. "Just remember to keep your clothes tailored, so the overall look isn't messy."

Deep Side Part

Category : Business Casual

Popularity:

Wiki Info: The side part hairstyle got its start in the early 1940's during a time when a man needed his hair to stay neat and tidy while putting on and removing his hat throughout the day. Back then you could see this look donned by such famous movie stars as Humphrey Bogart and Clark Gable. In fact, it's probably safe to assume that your grandpa rocked this look at some point. It's a style that has been mimicked throughout the decades and this one is no exception.
